

Documentation Center of Cambodia (DC-Cam)

Presented by Mr. Youk Chhang
Director of DC-Cam

Left to right: Tear Banh, Deputy Prime Minister and Minister of National Defense
Middle: Yasushi Akashi, Special Representative of the Secretary-General for Cambodia
Right: Prince Norodom Sihanouk, President of the Supreme National Council, attending a welcoming ceremony for Cambodian returnees in Phnom Penh on September 28, 1992.

Photo by: P Sudhakaran

Source: Benny Widyono/Documentation Center of Cambodia

Mimicking the scene in a voter registration billboard, a Cambodian man displays his registration card. The billboard was produced by the Information component of UNTAC. The photo was taken on September 01, 1992

Photo by: P Sudhakaran

Source: Benny Widnyono/ Documentation Center of Cambodia

A Cambodian listening to a radio donated by a Japanese non-governmental organization and distributed by UNTAC's information and education division. UNTAC was using radio to convey information about the upcoming election, scheduled for May 1993.

UN Photo/P in Kampong Speu Province on October 01, 1992

Source: Benny Widiono/ Documentation Center of Cambodia

Phase Two of the cease-fire in Cambodia became effective today. Under Phase Two, the responsibilities of UNTAC include supervising the cease-fire, cantoning and demobilizing the forces of the four Cambodian factions. UNTAC was established by Security Council resolution 745 (1992) and became operational 15 March 1992. UNTAC is mandated with guiding Cambodia through its transitional period to free and fair elections in April/May 1993 which will establish a new democratic Government. The following are the main components of UNTAC as outlined in the Agreement on a Comprehensive Political Settlement of the Cambodia Conflict, effective 23 October 1991; military; human rights; civil administration; electoral; police; repatriation; "and rehabilitation. Soldiers of the Cambodia People Armed Forces (CPAF) are cantoned and demobilized as part of Phase Two of the cease-fire on June 13, 1992 at Kamchay Mea District.

UN Photo/P

Source: Benny Widiono/Documentation Center of Cambodia

Khmer Rouge soldiers in a zone controlled by the Khmer Rouge. The photo was taken on January 01, 1992

UN Photo/J

Source: Benny Widyono/Documentation Center of Cambodia

A woman receiving her ballot from an UNTAC electoral staff member. The photo was taken at Kampong Chhnang on May 23, 1993 during the National Election held under Supervision of United Nations Transitional Authority in Cambodia

UN Photo/P Sudhakaran

Source: Benny Widyono/Documentation Center of Cambodia

An UNTAC information education team heading towards a Cambodian island to publicize voting procedures.

UN photo on May 16, 1993

Source: Benny Widiono/Documentation Center of Cambodia

Cambodians assembled near a polling station in Prey Veng Province on the second day of voting. Voting, for a national constituent assembly, was being conducted under the supervision of UNTAC. The election was scheduled for 23-28 May 1993. The photo was taken on May 24, 1993 in Prey Veng Province

Photo by John Isaac

Source: Benny Widiono/Documentation Center of Cambodia

A United Nations Military Observer from the United States plays with a baby from the Krung-Brau tribe in Ratanankiri Province where there is a lot of ethnic minority living as the child's mother looks on. The photo was taken on May 04, 1993

UN Photo by John Isaac

Source: Benny Widjono / Documentation Center of Cambodia

A United Nations staff member counts the votes at the Electoral Warehouse in Phnom Penh on May 23, 1993

Photo by P Sudhakaran

Source: Benny Widyono/Documentation Center of Cambodia

An UNTAC staff member (centre, kneeling) of the Community Relations Office fixes a safety reflector on a Cyclo in Phnom Penh on June 01, 1993

Photo by P Sudhakaran

Source: Benny Widyono/Documentation Center of Cambodia

Akashi, the Head of UNTAC, King Sihanouk, General Sanderson from Australia the force commander of UNTAC and body Guards from North Korea for the King arriving in Siem Reap to open the provincial headquarters of UNTAC Governor Benny Widyono.

Photo by Benny Widyono

Source: Benny Widyono/ Documentation Center of Cambodia

Welcome home of 100,000 refugee from camps in Thailand. UN Photo
Sudhakaran August 28, 1992, Phnom Penh Cambodia
Source: Benny Widyono/ Documentation Center of Cambodia.

Second from left: Yasushi AKASHI special Representative of the Secretary-General addresses a meeting of provincial directors. On the extreme left is Ataul KARIM, political Advisor; Gerald PORCELL ~second from right), Director, Civil Administration Component and Ben Yahmed JAMAIL, provincial coordinator. The photo was taken on May 23, 1993 at UNTAC Head Quarter in Phnom Penh.

UN Photo/P

Source: Benny Widyono/ Documentation Center of Cambodia

Cambodian returning from refugee camps in Thailand aboard a UNHCR train approaching Phnom Penh June 1992.

Source: Benny Widyono/Documentation Center of Cambodia

Benny Widyono flanked by the Provincial Military commander Colonel Kamal and Superintendent Dowling from the irih police (partly hidden) inspecting UN troops and civilian at Siem Reap stadium on UN day 24 October 1992.

Source: Benny Widyono/Documentation Center of Cambodia

Benny Widyono standing among the Khmer Rouge troop and government troops in Pailin, the head quarters of the Khmer Rouge territory bordering on Thailand which carried out a busy gems and logs trade with Thai traders. Widyono was asked to accompany King Sihanouk to inspect Khmer Rouge territories in September, 1992

Source: Benny Widyono/Documentation Center of Cambodia

A giant Soviet made helicopter MI26, the largest in the world, which can transport three vehicles at one time, hired by UNTAC to transport UNTAC vehicles and soldiers.

UN photo by Sudhakaran

Source: Benny Widiono/Documentation Center of Cambodia

Thank You For Your Attention!