

មជ្ឈមណ្ឌលឯកសារកម្ពុជា

DOCUMENTATION CENTER OF CAMBODIA

DC-Cam Calendar of Events
January-March 2013

Date/Place	Events/Significant Field Trips	Partners & Participants	Media Coverage	Brief Summary of Project
January 2013
January 9,11, 14, 16, 18, 21, 23, 25, 28, and 30 Tuol Sleng Museum	DC-Cam will provide a history classroom at the Tuol Sleng Genocide Museum which is on the third floor of building A, at 14:00 P.M. (Monday and Friday), 9:00 A.M. (Wednesday).	Ministry of Culture and Fine Arts, Tuol Sleng Genocide Museum, DC-Cam, general public, foreign visitors. Approximately forty people.	N/A	As part of the museum component, DC-Cam works in collaboration with the Cambodian Ministry of Culture and Fine Arts to preserve the genocidal crime site, raise awareness of the consequence of the crimes, and prevent such crimes from happening in the future. For this purpose, DC-Cam converts a room that used to be an interrogation room into a classroom for learning the DK history. The general public including students, KR survivors, and foreign visitors will benefit from this classroom.
January 14-15 ECCC	The Witnessing Justice team will bring a number of selected KR survivors to attend the ECCC's substantive trial of Case 002. They will be provided updated information about the ECCC before they attend the hearing.	Approximately twenty villagers, and the ECCC	Reaksmei Kampuchea and other international media	The Witnessing Justice Project is committed to assisting Cambodians—especially rural dwellers, women and minority groups—in order to engage with the ECCC's word by facilitating their attendance at a Court hearing, while also providing pre-hearing legal training and discussion of issues currently in play at the ECCC. The selected invitees who have visited ECCC and historical sites already will chair the public village forums in their respective home communities. Participants in these rural areas will be invited to listen to a discussion on justice and related issues, pose questions, exchange views, give suggestions, and be asked to convey the insights they gain to their neighbors to maximize the impact of each forum.

January 17-19 Kratie	The Witnessing Justice team will travel to Kratie province to hold village forum on ECCC trial, following by a discussion of the pertinent issues from the hearing including DK history, human rights, democracy and rules of law.	Approx. 100 people including commune officials, teachers, students, and villagers, and ECCC	Reaksmei Kampuchea	The Witnessing Justice Project is committed to assisting Cambodians – especially rural dwellers, women and minority groups – in order to engage with the ECCC’s word by facilitating their attendance at a Court hearing, while also providing pre-hearing legal training and discussion of issues currently in play at the ECCC. The selected invitees who have visited ECCC and historical sites already will chair the public village forums in their respective home communities. Participants in these rural areas will be invited to listen to a discussion on justice and related issues, pose questions, exchange views, give suggestions, and be asked to convey the insights they gain to their neighbors to maximize the impact of each forum.
January 28-30 ECCC	The Witnessing Justice team will bring a number of selected KR survivors to attend the ECCC's substantive trial of Case 002. They will be provided updated information about the ECCC before they attend the hearing.	Approximately twenty villagers, and the ECCC	Reaksmei Kampuchea and other international media	The Witnessing Justice Project is committed to assisting Cambodians – especially rural dwellers, women and minority groups – in order to engage with the ECCC’s word by facilitating their attendance at a Court hearing, while also providing pre-hearing legal training and discussion of issues currently in play at the ECCC. The selected invitees who have visited ECCC and historical sites already will chair the public village forums in their respective home communities. Participants in these rural areas will be invited to listen to a discussion on justice and related issues, pose questions, exchange views, give suggestions, and be asked to convey the insights they gain to their neighbors to maximize the impact of each forum.

January 30 Royal University of Law and Economics, Phnom Penh	The Cambodia Tribunal Monitor (CTM) and Trial Observation team will conduct an outreach of CTM with students at Royal University of Law and Economics. Outreach materials about ECCC and DC-Cam, including DK history text books, are provided.	Royal University of Law and Economics, 300 students	N/A	Cambodia Tribunal Monitor (CTM) is a joint project between DC-Cam and Northwestern University School of Law's Center for International Human Rights, with support from the Illinois Holocaust Museum and Education Center, the B.J. and M.K. Pritzker Family Foundation, and the U.S. Holocaust Memorial Museum. CTM uploads webcasts of the ECCC's live hearings and provides news and expert commentary about the ECCC. For more details, please visit: www.cambodiatribunal.org .
February 2013
February 4, 6, 8, 11, 13, 15, 18, 20, 22, 25 and 27 Tuol Sleng Museum	DC-Cam will provide a history classroom at the Tuol Sleng Genocide Museum which is on the third floor of building A, at 14:00 P.M. (Monday and Friday), 9:00 A.M. (Wednesday).	Ministry of Culture and Fine Arts, Tuol Sleng Genocide Museum, DC-Cam, general public, foreign visitors. Approximately forty people.	N/A	As part of the museum component, DC-Cam works in collaboration with the Cambodian Ministry of Culture and Fine Arts to preserve the genocidal crime site, raise awareness of the consequence of the crimes, and prevent such crimes from happening in the future. For this purpose, DC-Cam converts a room that used to be an interrogation room into a classroom for learning the DK history. The general public including students, KR survivors, and foreign visitors will benefit from this classroom.

February 1-3 Angkor Khemara University, Takeo	The Cambodia Tribunal Monitor (CTM) and Trial Observation team will conduct an outreach of CTM with students at Angkor Khemara University in Takeo. Outreach materials about ECCC and DC-Cam, including DK history text books, are provided.	Angkor Khemara University and 300 students	N/A	Cambodia Tribunal Monitor (CTM) is a joint project between DC-Cam and Northwestern University School of Law’s Center for International Human Rights, with support from the Illinois Holocaust Museum and Education Center, the B.J. and M.K. Pritzker Family Foundation, and the U.S. Holocaust Memorial Museum. CTM uploads webcasts of the ECCC’s live hearings and provides news and expert commentary about the ECCC. For more details, please visit: www.cambodiatribunal.org.
February 11-14 ECCC	The Witnessing Justice team will bring a number of selected KR survivors to attend the ECCC's substantive trial of Case 002. They will be provided updated information about the ECCC before they attend the hearing.	Approximately twenty villagers, and the ECCC	Reaksmei Kampuchea and other international media	The Witnessing Justice Project is committed to assisting Cambodians – especially rural dwellers, women and minority groups – in order to engage with the ECCC’s word by facilitating their attendance at a Court hearing, while also providing pre-hearing legal training and discussion of issues currently in play at the ECCC. The selected invitees who have visited ECCC and historical sites already will chair the public village forums in their respective home communities. Participants in these rural areas will be invited to listen to a discussion on justice and related issues, pose questions, exchange views, give suggestions, and be asked to convey the insights they gain to their neighbors to maximize the impact of each forum.
February 15 International	The Cambodia Tribunal Monitor (CTM) and Trial Observation team will conduct an outreach of CTM	International University and 300 students	N/A	Cambodia Tribunal Monitor (CTM) is a joint project between DC-Cam and Northwestern University School of Law’s Center for

University, Phnom Penh	with students at International University, Phnom Penh. Outreach materials about ECCC and DC-Cam, including DK history text books, are provided.			International Human Rights, with support from the Illinois Holocaust Museum and Education Center, the B.J. and M.K. Pritzker Family Foundation, and the U.S. Holocaust Memorial Museum. CTM uploads webcasts of the ECCC's live hearings and provides news and expert commentary about the ECCC. For more details, please visit: www.cambodiatribunal.org.
February 25-27 Kampong Chhnang	The Witnessing Justice team will travel to Kampong Chhnang province to hold village forum on ECCC trial, following by a discussion of the pertinent issues from the hearing including DK history, human rights, democracy and rules of law.	Approx. 100 people including commune officials, teachers, students, and villagers, and ECCC	Reaksmei Kampuchea	The Witnessing Justice Project is committed to assisting Cambodians—especially rural dwellers, women and minority groups—in order to engage with the ECCC's word by facilitating their attendance at a Court hearing, while also providing pre-hearing legal training and discussion of issues currently in play at the ECCC. The selected invitees who have visited ECCC and historical sites already will chair the public village forums in their respective home communities. Participants in these rural areas will be invited to listen to a discussion on justice and related issues, pose questions, exchange views, give suggestions, and be asked to convey the insights they gain to their neighbors to maximize the impact of each forum.
March 2013
March 1, 4, 6, 8, 11, 13, 15, 18, 20, 22, 25, 27, and 29	DC-Cam will provide a history classroom at the Tuol Sleng Genocide Museum which is on the third floor of building A, at 14:00	Ministry of Culture and Fine Arts, Tuol Sleng Genocide Museum, DC-Cam, general	N/A	As part of the museum component, DC-Cam works in collaboration with the Cambodian Ministry of Culture and Fine Arts to preserve the genocidal crime site, raise awareness of the

Tuol Sleng Museum	P.M. (Monday and Friday), 9:00 A.M. (Wednesday).	public, foreign visitors. Approximately forty people.		consequence of the crimes, and prevent such crimes from happening in the future. For this purpose, DC-Cam converts a room that used to be an interrogation room into a classroom for learning the DK history. The general public including students, KR survivors, and foreign visitors will benefit from this classroom.
March 1 IIC University of Technology, Phnom Penh	The Cambodia Tribunal Monitor (CTM) and Trial Observation team will conduct an outreach of CTM with students at IIC University of Technology, Phnom Penh. Outreach materials about ECCC and DC-Cam, including DK history text books, are provided.	IIC University of Technology and 300 students	N/A	Cambodia Tribunal Monitor (CTM) is a joint project between DC-Cam and Northwestern University School of Law's Center for International Human Rights, with support from the Illinois Holocaust Museum and Education Center, the B.J. and M.K. Pritzker Family Foundation, and U.S. Holocaust Memorial Museum. CTM uploads webcasts of the ECCC's live hearings and provides news and expert commentary about the ECCC. For more details, please visit: www.cambodiatribunal.org .
March 11-14 ECCC	The Witnessing Justice team will bring a number of selected KR survivors to attend the ECCC's substantive trial of Case 002. They will be provided updated information about the ECCC before they attend the hearing.	Approximately twenty villagers, and the ECCC	Reaksmei Kampuchea and other international media	The Witnessing Justice Project is committed to assisting Cambodians – especially rural dwellers, women and minority groups – in order to engage with the ECCC's work by facilitating their attendance at a Court hearing, while also providing pre-hearing legal training and discussion of issues currently in play at the ECCC. The selected invitees who have visited ECCC and historical sites already will chair the public village forums in their respective home communities. Participants in these rural areas will be invited to listen to a discussion on justice and related issues, pose questions, exchange views, give suggestions, and be asked to convey the insights they gain to their neighbors to maximize the impact of each forum.

March 22 ICS University, Phnom Penh	The Cambodia Tribunal Monitor (CTM) and Trial Observation team will conduct an outreach of CTM with students at ICS University, Phnom Penh. Outreach materials about ECCC and DC-Cam, including DK history text books, are provided.	ICS University and 300 students	N/A	Cambodia Tribunal Monitor (CTM) is a joint project between DC-Cam and Northwestern University School of Law's Center for International Human Rights, with support from the Illinois Holocaust Museum and Education Center, the B.J. and M.K. Pritzker Family Foundation, and U.S. Holocaust Memorial Museum. CTM uploads webcasts of the ECCC's live hearings and provides news and expert commentary about the ECCC. For more details, please visit: www.cambodiatribunal.org .
March 25-27 Preah Vihear	The Witnessing Justice team will travel to Preah Vihear province to hold village forum on ECCC trial, following by a discussion of the pertinent issues from the hearing including DK history, human rights, democracy and rules of law.	Approx. 100 people including commune officials, teachers, students, and villagers, and ECCC	Reaksmei Kampuchea	The Witnessing Justice Project is committed to assisting Cambodians—especially rural dwellers, women and minority groups—in order to engage with the ECCC's work by facilitating their attendance at a Court hearing, while also providing pre-hearing legal training and discussion of issues currently in play at the ECCC. The selected invitees who have visited ECCC and historical sites already will chair the public village forums in their respective home communities. Participants in these rural areas will be invited to listen to a discussion on justice and related issues, pose questions, exchange views, give suggestions, and be asked to convey the insights they gain to their neighbors to maximize the impact of each forum.