

Volunteer Recruitment

Documentation Center of Cambodia (DC-Cam) is a non-governmental organization to research and record the era of Democratic Kampuchea (Khmer Rouge), established since 1995. DC-Cam has two main objectives. The first is to record and preserve the history of the Khmer Rouge regime for future generations. The second is to compile and organize information that can serve as potential evidence in a legal accounting for the crimes of the Khmer Rouge. These objectives represent our promotion of memory and justice, both of which are critical foundations for the rule of law and genuine national reconciliation in Cambodia.

We are seeking 4 volunteers (part-time or full-time) to work in the field of Information Technology (IT) and Documentation. This voluntary work takes 3 to 6 months, which will begin on September 1, 2017.

Qualifications for IT Candidate:

- Be a third year university student, majoring in Computer Sciences
- Have good English command
